

LICENCIFY

Automated database license management

DATABASE LICENSING IS COMPLEX

Database license risk is becoming harder to control as enterprise environments move across on-premise, virtualised, cloud and managed infrastructure. Waiting until the next vendor audit means collecting evidence under pressure.

Licencify goes deep into enterprise database licensing Audit-ready within one click.

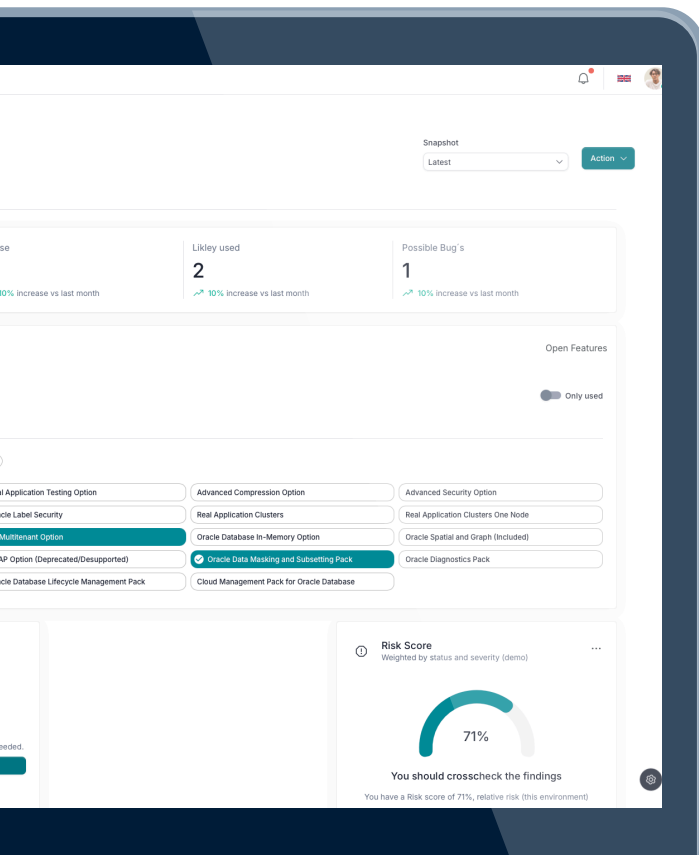

WHY LICENCIFY

Licencify is a database-first license intelligence platform that helps organisations and service providers create explainable, audit-ready visibility across complex enterprise database environments.

Flexera and USU help organisations manage software assets broadly. Licencify helps organisations understand database license risk deeply.
